ABOUT ME

I am hardworking and fully motivated, with of utmost passion towards Information Technology. I am a well-depended and well-organized individual, and will be fully dedicated and responsible for any tasks at hand given. I have a keen eye for any additional details, and would give full focus and try my best to complete my task and fulfill my duties as perfectly as I can with maximum results. I have great communication skills, so I am able to work in a group effectively. Moreover, I would describe myself as a mature, open-minded and honest person, as I am open to any ideas others would give, allowing group projects to be well-coordinated. Plus, I try to be fair in everything that I do. Not only can I work excellently in a group, but I can also work independently just as well. I am very keen on seeking new experiences as well as developing new skills.
